DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments filed 20 February 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the graphite powder of Hase et al. was produced by a process different from that of applicants, and therefore the properties of the graphite will be different.

Firstly, examiner maintains that the properties which applicant claims to be different are admittedly dependent upon properties such as aspect ratio, average particle size, and particle size distribution. These properties of Hase et al. meet the applicant's limitations, therefore it is maintained that Hase et al. is expected to possess the claimed properties.

Secondly, examiner notes that in response to applicant's arguments concerning the control of properties prior to graphitization, the properties of the graphite powder of Hase et al., such as aspect ratio and particle size, are controlled prior to graphitization.

Thirdly, in response to applicant's arguments that the oxidation treatment of Hase et al. is not required in the instantly claimed invention, it is noted that the applicant's process begins with a coke material, whereas the process of Hase et al. includes the process steps of forming the coke material. The additional process steps of forming the coke material do not alter the claimed properties of the graphite product.

For the above reasons, the rejections of the previous office action, paper #6, are maintained in their entirety and incorporated herein by reference.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
